"Jimmie Tolan" Buried With Full Military Honors

Obsequies of Local Lieutenant Who Lost Life in Plane Crash Occurred From Home on Tuesday—Hundreds View Body and Attend Church Ceremonies— Interment in St. Denis' Cemetery

Lieutenant James E. Tolan, 3rd, Wayne Ave., resident of Narberth for more than 21 of his 22 years, lost his life on Friday of last week when his plane crashed into Chesapeake Bay, near Baltimore, as a result of the single engine blowing its cylinder head.

The young aviator joined the Armed Forces the day after war was forced on America and he had earned high repute as a capable and courageous flier.

His death was directly due to drowning, his plane cupized as it landed in the water close to the bay shore, and it was not possible to extricate him promptly from the cockpit in which he was penned.

Pastor Celebrates Mass

His funeral occurred on Tuesday morning of this week from his late home, with High Requiem Mass at St. Margaret's celebrated by the pastor, the Rev. James F. Toner. There were present in the sanctuary the Rev. Charles T. Diana and the Rev. Charles P. O'Connor, assistant rectors of St. Margaret's, and also the following priests from Villanova College, which Lieutenant Tolan attended:

Rev. F. A. Diehl, O.S.A.; Rev. J. M. Dougherty, O.S.A.; Rev. J. S. O'Leary, O.S.A.; Rev. John P. Smith, S. J., of the Church of the Gesù, Philadelphia, was also present.

Military Ritual Observed

The pall-bearers were six lieutenant comrades of the deceased officer and in addition there was a guard of honor composed of four other lieutenants. The body was carried to St. Denis' Cemetery, South Ardmore, in an Army hearse and at the interment a platoon fired three volleys and taps were played as the casket was slowly lowered to its last resting place.

The flag used for the obsequies, which had been provided by the War Department, was presented to the widow at the conclusion of the military ritual.

Large throngs were at both the church and cemetery and many floral pieces were in evidence, including one from the Narberth Citizens' Committee, sent to express the sorrow of the citizens of the community at large.

In the viewing of the body, the evening before the funeral, there was a constant stream of visitors, estimated in the hundreds, including a delegation from the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion. School officials of the Township and members of the faculty of Lower Merion High School were also among those who came to offer their condolences.

In addition to his wife, a bride of six months, the former Miss Eileen Mary Pollock, Lieutenant Tolan is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Tolan, Jr., a brother, John, and a sister, Catherine.

MAJOR C. W. ARNOLD MADE LT. COLONEL

Ardmore Physician's Military Career Started in 1914

Major Clifford H. Arnold, of Ardmore, post surgeon at the Army War College, headquarters for the Army Ground Forces has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Colonel Arnold, a brother of General Henry H. Arnold, Commanding General of the Army Air Force, is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and the Medical College of Virginia, where he was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Medical Corps.

His military career started with his enlistment in the Pennsylvania National Guard in July, 1914, when he was commissioned as a First Lieutenant in the Medical Corps. He served on the Mexican Border from July, 1916, until February, 1917. In July 1917, he was promoted to the grade of Captain. During the first World War he went on active duty with the Army, serving in this country and later with the A.E.F. For wounds received while in action with the A.E.F. Colonel Arnold was decorated with the Purple Heart with one Palm.

In 1919 Colonel Arnold was transferred to the Medical Corps Reserve and took up the practice of Medicine in Ardmore. He was called to active duty again in April, 1941, and was promoted to the grade of Major.

Colonel Arnold's wife and two daughters live in Ardmore.

War Bonds and Stamps To Be Legal Tender at Auction in Ardmore

Families which are short on rationed articles of food will have an opportunity to replenish their larders at the War Stamp and Bond auction sale to be held at 19 E. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, on Friday and Saturday, May 21 and 22.

Canned goods, meat and butter will be a few of the choice items available for stamps instead of points at the sale, sponsored jointly by the Ardmore War Stamp Exchange and the Main Line branch of the Emergency Aid.

All proceeds of the auction will go into War Bonds and Stamps under the unique method which has been practiced at the War Stamp Exchange. This method aims to thaw out frozen capital in the form of furniture, silver, jewelry, antiques, china, etc., and transform it into working capital through the sale of these articles for bonds and stamps.

The purchaser of an article at the auction will not only receive the item he bid for but also one-half the selling price will be returned to him in stamps or bonds. The other half of the selling price will go in stamps or bonds to the person contributing the article.

In addition to rationed articles, the sale will offer a wide variety of valuable items, many of interest to collectors. There are some fine 18th century silver spoons, an 18th century Hepplewhite chest of drawers, brass doorknobs, antique fabrics, two good sized Oriental rugs, a baby grand piano, an electric stove in excellent condition, a Louis XV sofa, some early American glass, modern and antique china, a practically new white fur evening wrap, whale oil glass lamps, Chinese antiques, and fine oil paintings, to mention but a few.

Of particular interest, also, is a considerable amount of fine wood paneling from Main Line mansions which have been torn down recently. Included is 800 square feet of walnut paneling and a fireplace mantel from the library of the Percival Roberts house in Penn Valley, pine paneling from the A. J. Cassatt house in Haverford and three panels from an old French chateau.

The articles to be sold at the auction will be on public display at 19 E. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, on Thursday, May 20. Sales will begin on the following Friday and

12 Persons Killed In April Accidents

Twelve persons lost their lives as a result of accidents in Montgomery County during April, an increase of five over March (according to records of Coroner W. J. Rushong, the Montgomery County Accident Prevention Conference reports).

A breakdown shows home accidents topped the list with six victims. Traffic accidents accounted for two deaths, both pedestrians.

Saturday at 2 P. M. and 8 P. M.

A "big time" auctioneer, James Hall, will be in charge of the sale. Hall, who has a national reputation as an auctioneer, is donating his services, as are all others connected with the affair. A rostrum mounted on wheels will enable Hall to move freely about the auction room to dispose of the numerous articles.

In addition to the selling of articles, recesses will be called occasionally in the sale to dispose of bonds by the "matching" system. Under this plan, members of the War Stamp Exchange and the Emergency Aid will collaborate in buying two bonds each time one is offered.

The sale also marks the expected conclusion of the Emergency Aid's "bomber" campaign for $300,000 worth of bonds and stamps. The bomber will be christened "Main Liner."

Arrangements for the sale are being made by Mrs. Lois Umben, of Narberth, head of the Ardmore War Stamp Exchange, and Mrs. Francis Small, of Bryn Mawr, chairman of the Main Line War Bond and Stamp Committee of the Emergency Aid.

The Red Cross, acting as a recruiting agency for the armed forces, is staging a drive throughout the country to secure nurses for the Army and Navy. Only those who are graduated from accredited nursing schools are accepted.

158 ARE DONORS AT NEW CENTER

Volunteer Groups Swell Contributions On Busy Monday

One hundred and fifty-eight donors helped the Red Cross open its new Blood Donor Center at Montgomery Ave. and St. George's Rd. Monday.

First to report Monday was the Women's Golf Association of Philadelphia headed by Mrs. Leslie F. Mulford, president, who became a donor for the third time. Others in the association who gave this week included Mrs. Ralph Raynor, former president; Mrs. Edwin H. Vane, the former Glenna Collett, for many years national women's golf champion; Mrs. Sam Byrd, wife of the Merion golf professional; John R. Williams, Jr., and Mrs. Mrs. Ralph Seltzer, Jr.

Heading a Lower Merion police detachment of 36 was Captain William Shaffer of the detective Bureau, and following the police was a group of Haverford College Air cadets and girls from Bryn Mawr College.

Members of the Main Line Branch of the Red Cross including many members of the Motor Corps were among the donors. G. Forde Hansell, who directed the opening celebration of the center last Saturday, also was a volunteer. This week Autocar employees will be among the volunteers.

The drive will be continued Friday and Saturday from 12:45 P. M. to 5:30 P. M. a few vacancies caused by cancellations of previous appointments are open for donors. Those who wish to become donors may call Ardmore 3100 to make appointments.

Henry P. Carr is chairman of the Borough Council's finance committee and reported on this matter at the May meeting, held in the Council Chamber, at Elm Hall.

Roland Fleer, president of Council, in a letter addressed to the secretary, Mrs. Ruth W. Grace, informed the other members that he had filed an appeal with the Montgomery County Court on April 27 from the action of the Montgomery County Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes in fixing the assessment of his property, an apartment house at 227 N. Narberth Ave., at $10,000.

Following the reading of this letter, Council, on the recommendation of Finance Chairman Carr, authorized its Solicitor, Henry A. Frye, to "intervene" in behalf of the Borough at the date set for argument on the appeal, this Thursday, in Court Room "B" at the Court House, Norristown.

When the triennial assessment was made, last fall, by the Narberth Assessor, E. C. Griswold, the assessment of the Fleer property was fixed at $12,500 for 1943, 1944 and 1945. Following an appeal by Fleer to the Board of Assessment, it was reduced to $10,000. Fleer, in taking an appeal to the Court, seeks a further reduction. It is understood that the assessment on his property was previously $8000.

Permission was granted the Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co., which operates the bus line running through Narberth, to erect "bus stop" signs on wooden posts

NO NARBERTH MEN IN MAY DRAFT

Borough's Quota Of 4 Men Met By Volunteers

No Narberth candidates were included in the last draft call made by the Local Board, as the borough quota for May comprised only four men, and there was a sufficient number of volunteers to fill the order.

A former resident, John A. Morgan, known to many Narberth people from his work at a local gas station, left for the Army under the Bryn Mawr quota.

Jack's father, the late, Dr. Mark E. Morgan, served his turn in the First World War and acquired a captain's rank. The mother and family now live at 306 Berkeley Rd. in Merion.

The Narberth Citizens Committee, decided that Jack should be regarded as a borough boy and so the customary gifts were delivered to him on his departure to camp.

Application must be made in person to the Board, submitting a copy of the leave, pass or furlough.

Civilian Defense Information

ESSENTIALS OF NEW CEILING PRICE PROGRAM

Community ceiling prices for twenty groups of foods were announced this week by the Philadelphia Office of Price Administration and are now in effect in Pennsylvania stores within a radius of 20 miles from City Hall, Philadelphia. The prices are the highest that ANY store in the area can charge. Large volume stores where prices are regularly lower, must continue to sell at the lower prices required by existing regulations.

The food groups covered by this first-of-a-series of community ceiling prices included: fluid, condensed and evaporated milk, butter, eggs, coffee, cheese, poultry, bread, cereals, spaghetti, macaroni, noodles, sugar, lard, honey, syrups, peanut butter, canned citrus products, pancake and buckwheat mixes.

Housewives are urged to keep the lists of ceiling prices as printed in the newspapers and to use them when they go shopping.

All class one stores—stores whose annual volume of sales is less than $50,000—are required to post these official ceiling prices. Other stores must post the ceiling prices that apply to their particular class. All stores must also post their selling prices.

This action will be followed by an extension of "community ceiling prices" to other food groups. Coupled with the nationally established ceiling prices for pork products, now in effect, and with the dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for beef, veal and lamb, to become effective May 17, they will cover practically every important food in the family market basket.

At the present time community prices are being set for about 130 cities, but they will be extended until every food store in the nation will be covered. Most cities will have such community price lists by June 1. This program, which tells the housewife in plain terms of dollars and cents, the top legal price which she can be charged, goes a long way to establishing cost-of-living control.

While OPA investigators will be assigned to check on store compliance, consumers themselves now have in their hands the information they need to make sure that they are not being charged black market prices, to refuse to pay more than ceiling prices, and to report overcharge to their local War Price and Rationing boards.

Is Your Child Safe from Diphtheria and Smallpox?

(If you have children, read this article carefully.)

In the midst of war no community and no nation is safe from epidemic diseases. However, present-day knowledge of the causes of disease enables us to protect ourselves completely against diphtheria, typhus fever, typhoid fever, smallpox, cholera, plague and malaria, and to a large extent against many other diseases. There are still thousands of needless cases of diphtheria and smallpox in America each year. This is no time to relax our safeguards. Vaccination against smallpox confers lasting immunity against the most contagious disease in the world. All children should be protected by vaccination before their first birthday, and re-vaccinated again every ten years. Consult your physician and be sure that each member of your family is safe from smallpox.

Before 1894, in each year there occurred in every 100,000 population, 400 cases of diphtheria, and of these 150 died. Eighty per cent of those who died were children under 4 years of age. Then came the discovery of antitoxin for the treatment of diphtheria and the protection of those who had been exposed to the disease. By 1913, the number of cases per year in every 100,000 population had fallen to under 300, and of these only 35 died. To be effective in the treatment of diphtheria, antitoxin must be given early in the disease. Children treated on the first day all recovered. But can your baby tell you it has a sore throat? Unfortunately the disease is often not discovered until two or more days have passed, and so 5 to 10 per cent of the patients are sure to die. In 1913 the first method to protect children more or less permanently against diphtheria was discovered. Three injections of toxin-anti-toxin were found to protect nearly all children for a number of years, and possibly for the rest of their lives. More recently, simpler methods have been found, which are equally effective in protecting against this dreaded disease, and commonly require only two doses.

As a result, the yearly death rate has fallen to less than 3 for every 100,000 population. This has been accomplished by arousing the interest of parents in the safety of their children. If every child in the land were given preventive treatment, diphtheria could be wiped out.

SIX BALL CLUBS REORGANIZE LEAGUE

Main Line Baseball to Continue Despite War

Determined to carry on despite war-time perils, representatives of six clubs reorganized the Main Line Baseball League for its 39th campaign Monday night at Narberth.

Cramp's of the Philadelphia Industrial League and Pen-Mar A. C. of West Philadelphia, will be new faces in the circuit. Manoa A. A., defending champion, Narberth, Brookline and Overbrook are the holdovers.

Pen-Mar will be managed by Joe Irwin, who piloted the Collegians last year after taking over Ardmore's franchise. Actually no new franchise was granted. Pen-Mar, Irving being given permission to change the name of his team and to use the West Philadelphia High School field at 49th St. and Haverford Ave. as a home base.

Cramp's was admitted as a traveling team on a war-time franchise to replace Gladwyne A. A., which decided it could not operate this year due to its isolated position and accompanying transportation problems. George Nellings, manager of the Gladwyne Club, had his request granted for a suspended franchise which could be picked up after the war.

Cramp's will mark the return of a familiar, colorful figure to Main Line baseball as the Industrial club is managed by Eddie Sullivan, who previously piloted such clubs as Media A. A., West Phils. and Ardmore A. A. Sullivan is the one manager who probably won't be affected by the shortage of players. Some 70 candidates reported for his club's first practice and he had cut the squad to 36 prior to a workout at Narberth last week-end. He'll make a further cut before the league race gets under way May 30.

Manoa A. A. hasn't yet received definite word on its application for the use of Bergdoll Field, West Chester Pike and Eagle Rd., and Manager Frank Matthews didn't want his team to be considered officially in the league until the field was actually in his club's possession. However, there was no indication that Manoa wouldn't be given the field again and the other managers insisted that the league proceed with plans with Manoa as a member.

However, should a last minute hitch develop and Manoa couldn't be able to secure a field, the league will operate with five clubs.

Brookline and Overbrook expect to play as traveling clubs, but there still is a possibility of Manager Al Mueller transferring the latter's franchise to another community where a home field would be available.

It was decided that the regular league season will end August 29 and that the Shaughnessy playoff system will be used as heretofore to decide the pennant winner. Only Sunday and holiday games will be scheduled, instead of the usual Saturday-Sunday layout, but some Saturday games may be necessary in order to dispose of rained out contests. Each team will play each other three times, just half the number of games carded last season.

Officers were reelected unanimously. They are: Walter Hanley, Wynnewood, president; Herb Good, Narberth, vice-presidents; Charles E. Ardmore, and Harold Keating, Narberth, secretary-treasurer. Burt Powell, Narberth, again was named chief of the umpires.

String Quartet To Give Concert

Wednesday evening, May 26, the world famous Budapest String Quartet will give a free concert in the Radnor High School auditorium, Wayne, the fourth of a series sponsored by the Tri-County Concerts Association.

Other concerts this season have featured Virginia Lewis, Negro soprano; William Kapell, pianist, and a Youth Music Festival held last month which brought together young artists from all sections of suburban Philadelphia.

The Budapest Quartet, associated for years with the finest in European musical life, made their American debut at Cornell University in December, 1930. They have also made extensive tours in the East Indies, Australia and New Zealand.

TWO HOMES SOLD

The Merion office of William Pugh's real estate firm has reported the sale of two local properties.

A house at 60 Lodges Lane, in Cynwyd, Lower Merion Township, has been sold to Bernard Douedou, of 58 Lodges Lane, and a home at 840 Martin Ave., in Bryn Mawr, has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGranahan.

"Jimmie Tolan" Buried With Honors

evident that the precious thing called Freedom is insistent for its preservation that only the most precious of sacrifices shall suffice if humanity is not to be doomed to that insufferable existence which would mark the despot's sway.

It was but yesterday that the young lieutenant was taking his boy's wholesome part in the good life all about us, first at St. Margaret's school, then at Lower Merion High, after which he had his engineering fling at Villanova, a natural candidate for victorious enterprise, with all the high courage and technique needed to skillfully pilot those thunderous ships that sail the eternal skies.

Down in that Alabama school he quickly made the stern grade, his "Wings" being well earned exactly 6 months ago, and the day before the Nation so distinguished him, he took unto himself a wife, Eileen Mary Pollock, gentle, gracious Narberth girl who traveled with the home-folks to the Southern town to bind the truth and to be on hand when "Jimmie" was formally adopted into the Fighting Forces of the air.

From then on his flying career was of the valiant order that could be expected from a young man of such sterling stuff, his superiors becoming increasingly aware of the prowess that was his forte, and it was in the immediate cards that he was to be transferred overseas, at higher rank, to continue his gallant role.

Then had to come this disaster which brought him down, the engine revealing its serious defects when he was miles aloft, alone in his P-47, the largest single motor plane in all the world. . . and the retrospect of his landing in the shallow shore of the Chesapeake Bay makes the conviction inevitable, the data being what it is, that he was coolly deciding against his own best chances, to avoid peril to others, when he so selflessly elected not to crash on the tield and chose instead the water in which only he would be involved.

Thus the third sad toll has been taken of Narberth's splendid young men, and distressing it would be if the memories of "Jimmie" Tolan, and John Dixon, and of William Hook, were ever permitted to slip into the category of casual things or if their supreme offering for the Country's Cause failed to enshrine them permanently in our affections as among America's best benefactors and most stalwart sons.

Garden Day Sale Listed for May 19 At Bryn Mawr

The 20th Little Garden Day Sale will be held on Wednesday, May 19, from 10 to 6 o'clock, at the Memorial Building, Bryn Mawr, for the benefit of the Main Line Federation of churches. Miss Emily Vaux is chairman of Volunteers.

Owing to wartime conditions special emphasis will be placed on vegetable plants for Victory Gardens, as many people haven't the facilities for starting their own tomato, pepper and cabbage plants. There will also be house, window box, and garden type flowering plants, and a large assortment of "white elephants." Anyone having any of these things that they cannot use may send them to the sale before 10 A. M. as they may be just what someone else needs. Rationing has made it impossible to have the cake and candy tables or to serve lunch or tea as usual.

"We Take Aspirin Too" Says Local Ration Board

From the Ardmore-Narberth Board, No. 2646.3 to the 26,000 people it serves.

Retired OPA Chief Leon Henderson, during his tenure of office dubbed a "Softie," a guy who'd resigned from a Rationing Board to join the Commandos.

You say rationing is a headache! We agree. But you aren't the only ones taking aspirin. Stop and think about us in the Rationing Board. Your individual problem is, of course, more important to you than to anyone else. But your problem is also our problem because that's our job and we are in the office to serve you. We want to do it to the best of our ability and within the Government regulations which we are obliged to work under. These regulations make it impossible often, to give you what you want. But, we do not make the regulations. We are under oath to the Government to carry them out—and do our duty.

We are told that we are fast losing friends in the community because we are doing our duty as we understand it! Are the ties of friendship no stronger than that? Are we to be condemned because of the things we do in the line of duty? What price friendship—16 "B" coupons? We doubt if you would like to have our jobs. But we don't want to trade with you either. We like the work and feel we are making our direct contribution to the War effort. But we want you to keep in mind:

Rationing is one of the biggest jobs the Government ever undertook. The rules have flaws in them to be sure, but they are being corrected all the time. They may never be perfect but even if they do hurt, the slight sacrifice is nothing compared to a front line position in Tunisia. Rationing is beneficial to you and your neighbor alike. Rationing is necessary because none of us can have as much of anything today as in normal times. Without it, the chiseler, the hoarder, and the selfish among us, gets his and others don't. The rules of rationing are complicated and yet it's our job to keep up-to-date on them. It's a headache.

ESTATE NOTICES

ESTATE of RAYMON M. STALEY, deceased (late of Narberth, Montgomery County, Pa.) Letters Testamentary on the above estate have been granted to the undersigned, who request all persons having claims or demands against the estate of the decedent to make known the same, and all persons indebted to the decedent to make payment, without delay, to:

HELEN STALEY, Executrix

Or to her Attorney,
JAMES B. LICHTENBERGER,
1917 Packard Building, O. T.—4-29-6 t
Philadelphia, Pa.

Our Board serves about 26,000 people in this area. We handle rationing of gasoline, tires, fuel oil, autos, bicycle, sugar, coffee, shoes, rubber boots, processed foods and meats. The detail of work is tremendous. The regular clerks, the board members and volunteers have their hands full to administer it. When you have a problem or there is delay in getting what you want, please remember that your case is only one of many hundreds. Call us up about it, if you need to. Sure! But don't call us down. Don't swear at us on the phone. Don't tell us you sent your application in three weeks ago when it was only five days ago. We date everything as we receive it, you know. Give us a break—remember that that we are human and, therefore, fallible. We do make mistakes but we are ready to correct them. Delays will occur, mostly beyond our power to avoid but we try to be prompt.

Often the information you give us on an application is incomplete or not plain. Read the questions before you attempt to write the answers. We are not mind readers. And lastly: Keep in mind that the whole U. S. A. is rationed, not just our district. You know why! The sooner you and your neighbor quit griping about it (if you are a griper) the sooner it will be working 99 per cent. (There will always be a few who think they are entitled to more than others.) Too, it will help speed the day when your boy will be back again, God bless him!

Your Rationing Board office, at 66 E. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, is open every week from 9 to 3, Saturday 9 to 12:30; Tuesday evening 7 to 9:30. We are your servants. Use us, but try not to kick us around.

at various locations through the borough. The Philadelphia Electric Company has objected, the bus company said, to erection of such signs on their poles due to the hazard involved with men climbing the poles to make inspections and repairs.

Tax Collector John R. Hall reported that 1942 taxes were 97.6 per cent collected and also mentioned, offhand, that one taxpayer had paid his taxes of $48 by leaving that amount of money in cash in a cloth bag outside the borough office door. President Fleer congratulated Hall on his exceptional record and expressed the hope that perhaps this year he might equal the record of a certain soap company whose percentage claim for purity is 99 and 44-100ths.

Councilman Louis A. Young ("Lou" to football followers) reported that the talked-of conversion of the Windsor-Essex into an apartment house appears to have been dropped.

Councilman George A. Schroder, as chairman of the Borough Property Committee, announced that oil for heating the Community Building, which houses the Library, ran out on April 13. Since then, Schroder reported one-half cord of wood had been used in the building's fireplaces.

Features of the Inter-County Hospital plan were explained to Councilmen by a representative of that organization.

Consideration was asked of Council also for a modern bicycle ordinance for the borough, by Robert M. Cameron, 105 S. Narberth Ave., chairman of the Coordinating Committee of the Montgomery County Accident Prevention Conference. This organization, he said, has drafted a model ordinance covering the registration, inspection and operation of bicycles which has been adopted by Haverford, Upper Merion and passed by the Borough Councils in Norristown and Lansdale.

FLOWER SHOW CANCELED

The annual Flower Show, held by the Garden Committee of the Women's Club of Merion in September, has been canceled for the duration.

The cancellation is due to the gasoline rationing and the fact that members are busy with Victory Gardens. The club has given two Victory Gardens on their club house grounds to neighbors.

Here's the clincher for me

This is my kid.

He's a pretty good kid.

I always used to figure he'd get along all right in the world, the same way I did.

But a war starts you thinking.

Nobody knows for sure just what kind of a world my kid will have to grow up in. But whatever kind of a world it is, a little money behind him will help.

That's why I'm salting money away for him now.

I'm not taking any chances with his future. I'm guaranteeing it in the best way I know how:

Every pay day, nearly a quarter of what I make goes into War Bonds. Not just when I can spare it. But every single pay day—week in, week out.

It's taken right out of my pay, on the Payroll Savings Plan. That way, I hardly miss it. But it mounts up fast.

And every one of those War Bonds will pay back four dollars for three.

Pay it back when my kid may need it most.

Sure, I'd be buying bonds anyway. I know the Government needs money to win the war. And, it's the least sacrifice a guy can make for the country that's been good to him.

But the clincher with me is my kid.

Chances are, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. Raise your sights! Do your best!

How millions of Americans have done their bit—and how they can do better:

Of the 34 million Americans on plant pay rolls, nearly 30 million of them have joined the Payroll Savings Plan. (If you aren't in yet—sign up tomorrow!)

Those Americans who have joined the Plan are investing, on the average, 10% of their earnings in War Bonds. (If you haven't reached 10% yet—keep trying!)

BUT

America's income this year will be the highest in history—about 125 BILLION dollars! In spite of all taxes and price rises, the average worker will have more money than last year—more than ever before!

That is why Uncle Sam has a right to ask us, individually, to invest more money in War Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan. He asks us to invest not 10% or 15% or 20%, but all we can!

YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT --- NOW DO YOUR BEST!
